

Perturbator
moves the endpoint
away from the target position

Kevlar strings
represent tendons

DC motors
provide voltage, and thereby force, to drive tension into the kevlar strings

Musculoskeletal system is either robotic or cadaveric; joint angles
are measured by encoders

Load cells measure
tendon tension